NATIONAL INNOVATION AGENCY (NIA) OF THAILAND

The National Innovation Agency of Thailand (Public Organization) or so-called "NIA" is the main agency supporting Thailand's innovation system. NIA creates the opportunities and accesses to innovation infrastructure as well as upgrades innovation skills and capabilities to drive the National Innovation System.

Travel & Tourism innovation (Travel Tech) has been another innovative project that NIA has given the importance of since tourism is one of the main national industries that stimulates and distributes income to all areas and sectors. Meanwhile, the tourism industry is highly internationally competitive. The government therefore must drive the development of innovative tools or travel & tourism innovation to strengthen more customer experience value.

NIA believes that travel and tourism innovation will solve customer's pain points that likely occur during the travel, for example communication barriers between local community and international tourists or negative environmental impacts from tourism. Tourism innovation can help advance the quality of products and services by using national natural resources for example natural routes, man-made tourist attractions, cultural heritage, way of living, products and other travel services as supply components leading to new business models which will help expand more opportunities in new markets and sustainably improve people's quality of life economically, socially and environmentally.
